It’s a duty, to be observed during war and peacetime. Its purpose is to make sure that our leaders have their eyes on the prize.

I believe that the one-day celebration of a man who had a major role in our fight against terrorism should be kept as a simple reminder of the events that led to his tragic death. If I had to choose between celebrating Christopher Columbus Day or Martin Luther King Jr. Day, I would definitely choose MLK. I think that in order for his dream to come true, and his life and legacy to continue to live in all of us, we must educate ourselves and each other.
