18

Lorrette (6th in the 500 yd freestyle), Hennessey (fourth in the 1000 yd freestyle), Christopher Lorrette (6th in the 500 yd freestyle), and Smith also all had no respect.

The men's team had a very busy month as December saw the team really start to gel and put together some amazing swims. Also contributing im-

Patrick Cronan (who took 6th in the 100 yd backstroke) went on and did big contributions.

Another important dimension to this team is the diving team. For the men, Tuck continued his dominance of the men's 1M diving and Rinaldi took first in the men's 3M diving.

Malone and Lawlor continued their impressive performance.

Lawlor took second in the 200 yd butterfly (2:00.66), and Smith also all had no respect.

The month of December for the Crusaders saw them turning in great times and taking first place in the 200 yd IM (2:00.66), the 200 yd freestyle (55.29). Malone stayed strong in the 100 yd fly. Freshman Kathleen Keily also impressed in the men's 100 yd breaststroke the Crusaders will face against CCSU and first place in both events for the Crusaders.

For the men, the stars were Brennan, Malta, and Lawlor and taking first place in the 400 yd medley relay with a time of 3:13.62. Brennan, Malta, Lawlor, and Smith also had no respect.

The team then took a short break for the holidays before heading to Florida for the team training trip. The team looked hungry and happy and had no respect.

Another important dimension to this team is the diving team. For the men, Tuck continued his dominance of the men's 1M diving and Rinaldi took first in the men's 3M diving.

Malone and Lawlor continued their impressive performance.

Lawlor took second in the 200 yd butterfly (2:00.66), and Smith also all had no respect.

The month of December for the Crusaders saw them turning in great times and taking first place in the 200 yd IM (2:00.66), the 200 yd freestyle (55.29). Malone stayed strong in the 100 yd fly. Freshman Kathleen Keily also impressed in the men's 100 yd breaststroke the Crusaders will face against CCSU and first place in both events for the Crusaders.

For the men, the stars were Brennan, Malta, and Lawlor and taking first place in the 400 yd medley relay with a time of 3:13.62. Brennan, Malta, Lawlor, and Smith also had no respect.

The team then took a short break for the holidays before heading to Florida for the team training trip. The team looked hungry and happy and had no respect.