Somehow in between classes and homework, procrastinating and meetings, parties and more parties, we have started Holy Cross. Holy Cross’ triumphs, struggles, and dreams ... are directly intertwined and dependent on our triumphs, struggles and dreams.

At this point you are no doubt asking yourself, "What then is the challenge?" The challenge is this: As participants in the Holy Cross community, whether you belong to everything and have four hundred friends, or you only sometimes, or you only see Hogan as a place to get your mail and a coffee, we are all united in our identities. We can be regularly found engaging in conversations of unanimity, build essential bonds of respect for our diversity, and celebrate our common identities. We can join in our efforts to continue the tradition of Holy Cross’ Second Annual Unity Week from April 8th - April 16th!!!

The Unity Week Committee has been working closely with campus-wide organizations, students, and faculty to organize a week whose purpose would be to explore and celebrate our diversity and unity as a community. In essence, this week is about you and me, about the community members who came before us and those who will follow after us. It is about open and honest conversations of unanimity, build essential bonds of respect for our diversity, and celebrate our common identities. As a college campus, we are what we are, what we are, and where we are to be headed. The fact that we are all here at Holy Cross unites us in our exploration and offers us shared experiences. When you take a moment to think about it, just being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us, but rather being a part of this campus means that Holy Cross ceases to be an entity separate from us,
