Peter Graves was inducted a couple of years ago. It was just a matter of time before Bill received his honor.

From early on, Bill was accustomed to impressing crowds and continuing on to do so in his college career. In just 23 games he tallied an outstanding 31 goals. Consequently, Bill was named Co-C.E.A.C. Rookie of the Year for the 1973-74 season. Senior year, Bill achieved a position on the E.C.A.C. All Star Team and was chosen as Honorable Mention All American.

The hockey star was co-captain with Graves for the '76 '77 team, and helped lead them to a 15-12 season record. Bellerose competed on 'Sader' teams that amassed 51 victories and 45 defeats altogether. Dedicking himself to the Crusader hockey team, after graduation Bill returned to UC as assistant hockey coach, went on to be head coach, and then was inducted into the Holy Cross. Bellerose has devotedly served as both the associate director of athletics and business manager of athletics since November, 1992. He lives with his family in Westwbury, MA.

Other inductees include Richard J. Murphy ’66, Kevin Swords ’82, Dean V. Casagranda ’83, Julie M. LeClair ’86, and Lauren M. Maney ’96. A native of New York City, Murphy started as forward on the Crusader basketball team for three years. As a senior captain Murphy was named to the All Star team out of Holy Cross’s 23 games in the 1965-66 season. With a 23-2 victory over undefeated opponents Murphy missed the Cross’s elite “1,000 Point Club” by a mere margin of one point.

Richard J. Murphy ’92, was the first Jesuit Invitational Rugby Tournament, he led the Crusaders to victory over CCSU. Additionally, Benedicto and Casey played a tight #1 doubles match that day, losing 8-9 after the tiebreaker.

And when the preseason poll comes out, “I still pick us eleventh,” said Pearl. “We still won’t have scholarships. It was nice to be named surprise of the year, but they always throw it in there and stick it to someone. Now we realize the consequences of one and done play-off. I hope with all the school saw, they’ll believe we’re closer making the NCAA Tournament.”

Despite suffering a heartbreaking loss to UConn in the MAAC quarterfinals, the team has excelled leaps and bounds over previous expectations.

When the puck drops in October of 2002-03, Pearl and his Crusaders will be on the brink of greatness once again, as they continue to improve their team defense and offensive style of hockey we play. Backed by a solid goaltending and team defense and balanced Dean Miller was also a star baseball player. Dick Swords served as captain of the basketball, volleyball, and cross country achieve-
