Friday, Nov. 9

- Men's Hockey vs. Iona. 7 p.m., Hart Center.
- Midnight Basketball. 10 p.m. - 1 a.m., Fieldhouse. Free with HC student ID. Sponsored by Students for Responsible Choices.
- Tae Kwon Do classes. 11 a.m. - 12 p.m. Hogan 406. Come learn kick butt- in defense of, course, 25$ per semester.
- Kimball Movie: “The Score.” 7 p.m., Kimball Theater. $1.50 with HC ID. Sponsored by Purple Key Society.
- Renee Hobbs, Associate Professor of Communication at Babson College, will speak on the illustrious list of quality performances that the HC Theatre Department has produced.

Saturday, Nov. 10

- Football vs. Colgate. 12 p.m., Fitton Football Stadium. Don’t miss the Crusaders in the final home game of the semester!
- Women’s Ice Hockey vs. Sacred Heart. 3 p.m., Hart Recreation center.
- Opening of “Echoes: A Visual Reflection,” Cantor Art Gallery. "Echoes" exhibits the pictures of photographer Richard S. Buswell, which focus on decaying artifacts in the context of the Montana frontier. Buswell will give an artist talk in the Cantor Center, Ballroom. Sponsored by Purple Key Society.
- Holy Cross Jazz Ensemble Fall Concert. 8 to 10 p.m., Hogan Campus Center. Admission is free. Sponsored by Holy Cross Music Department.
- Cambridge. 10 to 11:30 p.m., Crossroads. Sponsored by CAB.

Wednesday, Nov. 14

- Tae Kwon Do, Hogan Suite C. 3:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. Wanna be like Jackie Chan? Come to these classes! $25 per semester.
- Holy Cross Chamber Orchestra Concert. 6 p.m., Brooks Concert Hall. Admission is free. Sponsored by Holy Cross Music Department.
- Kimball Movie: “Song Catcher.” 3 p.m., 8 p.m., Kimball Theater. $1.50 with HC ID.

- “How Can I Find God?” 12 to 12:45 p.m., Hogan Campus Center, Suite A. Speakers this week include Prof. Joanna Ziegler of Visual Arts and Rev. Gery McKeon of the Chaplain’s Office. Lunch will be provided.
- “RACE: Conversations We Don’t Have.” 7 to 8 p.m., Hanselman Hall social room. Sociologist Prof. Thomas Landry will conduct discussions and answer questions regarding interracial dating and socializing at HC. Refreshments will be provided.
- Roberto Fernandez presents “Entre la ocho y las nueve.” 7 p.m., Hogan Campus Center, Room 102. Don’t like Seanegal’s movies? Now learn how to avoid getting beaten up when you tell him you’ll $25 per semester.
- Blood Drive. 3 to 9 p.m., Hogan Campus Center, Ballroom. Sponsored by Purple Key Society.

---

By Mike Zeller, Crusader Features Humorist

Greetings, ladies and gentlemen. Another week has gone by and it’s time for another dose of Zeller humor. I have to admit, I was a little disappointed with how my column turned out last week. Then again, I’ve been disappointed by a lot of things in life, one notable example being the lack of a picture accompanying my article each week. I’m not even going to comment at least not as bitter as would be expected of someone who has faced agonizing frustration once a week. Anyway, that aside, let’s move onto this week’s topic: a continuation of last week’s ultimate job list for high school and college-age workers.

Media Sex Symbol: What an amazing concept; you look good and maybe have some trivial skill and “Bam!” your swimming in money. However, while the work of a media sex symbol may seem, well, not like work, media sex symbol’s are forced to put in many, many hours at their jobs. Apart from the torturous standing around and looking attractive, the demanding signing of uninteresting manuscripts, the daily posting of a few poorly scripted lines, media sex symbols also have a more important duty they must perform. They must be able to insert the word “like” between every two or three words in any sentence they speak at any time. They also must make sure that whenever they speak the word “like” in a completely grammatically inappropriate. I will replicate two statements, one right and one wrong for you see what I’m talking about.

Wrong: I really like how you set up the table in this room like the table in that room.

Right: I, like, really, y’know, like how you, like, put, like, this table, like, y’know, like that, like, other, like, table… LIKE, LIKE, LIKE!!!

They are also required by law to get involved in convoluted sex scandals railed only by U.S. politicians. And is all that truly worth even the ridiculous amount of money those people make? You bet.

Angry Hermit: On the opposite end of the spectrum is the angry hermit. Unlike the media sex symbol, this person rejects human association as much as possible, even to the extent of going to live in a rickety log cabin in the woods from which they shout angry blanket statements about mankind at anyone who happens to stray too close. They are completely isolated. Unlike the IRS’s policy is to leave disgruntled hermits to their own devices, but you can also eat any animal you can catch. However, for your purposes, dogs, cats, possums, crows and snakes should be added to the list of edible animals. You can also grab a bit of quick cash by pouring all the sporting goods that you have in a two hundred yard radius. Why would you ever want to get involved in this occupation, you ask? Why wouldn’t you? Not only do you get a fun place to live, but you also get to kick ass and be the hero. Again, I’ve been disappointed by a lot of things in life, but what other dose of Zeller humor.*

“Evil Mastermind: Who wouldn’t want to rule an evil empire of spies and assassins with an iron fist? This job will require a little bit of homework beforehand, however. First, it helps to have an extremely harsh and bitter outlook on the world. Then, you should gather all the low-level goons and thugs you can and convince them that working for you will bring them prestige, riches, eternal cosmic balance or whatever. Finally, begin concocting needlessly elaborate plans to hold the planet hostage, such as constructing a giant laser that will shoot down the moon and have it drop on the place where the World Peace Treaty is signed. Oh, something else equally ridiculous. You also have to make sure you have an appropriately villainous sounding laugh.*

Wrong: Hee, hee, hee!!

Wrong: Haw, haw, haw!!

If you want to go for the super-villain theme, this would also be the time you want to get a party-colorful costume together. Next time, complete with padding to compensate for any part of your body that looks less than ideal in spandex. Unfortunately, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate hole in each and every one of your nefarious schemes so they can be foiled time and again by stock-type heroes. Luckily, you are required to have a completely grammatically inappropriate