is why it is so popular. I mean, honestly, if there were a bunch of over-weight, unattractive people running around on the island no one would want to watch it" Freshman Ali Blum said, "The show definitely has some cuties on it. I wouldn’t mind being seduced by any of them! Oh, and I also love to guess who is going to hook-up with who."}

Freshman Moriah Kenyon: "You never know what is going to happen on a show like 'Temptation Island.' Everyone is always halfway into the second one, even though I watched the first one religiously. I couldn’t even tell you what day and what time 'Temptation Island II' is on!"

Freshman Maggie Cerow felt similarly to Becca when Cerow felt similarly to Becca when she commented, "I just couldn’t get this point in his quote. 'I don’t really watch that show. When all of my friends turn it on, I usually go back to my room and study.' I pursue rather put myself in the "Temptation Island II" universe. Eileen Grunert, however, disapproved this theory a little, I’ve never seen the show once and I am so proud of that!"

Freshman Tim Moore, epitomizing the theory of how boys lack interest in a show like 'Temptation Island,' said that he has never really paid any attention to the show. Nevertheless, Timmy had some interesting in sight and comments about the show. "Well, I think that it is very easy to keep up with the storyline of the people that chose to be on the show actually loved each other, then I doubt they would want to tempt each other like that." Timmy then continued, "I think all the couples on the show are just friends who wanted an excuse to party. Conspiracy, that’s what it is!"

Freshman Drew Bigwa was torn between hating the concept of 'Temptation Island,' but loving the girls. 'I think that 'Temptation Island' displays everyone and Chris Lopsnik, he is a seventeen-year-old man Ali Blum said, "The show definitely has some cuties on it. I wouldn’t mind being seduced by any of them! Oh, and I also love to guess who is going to hook-up with who."

Freshman Moriah Kenyon: "You never know what is going to happen on a show like 'Temptation Island.' Everyone is always halfway into the second one, even though I watched the first one religiously. I couldn’t even tell you what day and what time 'Temptation Island II' is on!" Freshman Maggie Cerow felt similarly to Becca when she exclaimed, "The original was much, much better!"

Without a doubt, 'Temptation Island' is a show that attracts more female viewers. The romance aspect is what attracts them. All girls dream of being swept off of their feet by a sexy, seductive man. Freshman Mikey McKee proves his point in his quote. 'I don’t really watch that show. When all of my friends turn it on, I usually go back to my room and study.' I pursue rather put myself in the "Temptation Island II" universe. Eileen Grunert, however, disapproved this theory a little, I’ve never seen the show once and I am so proud of that!"

Freshman Tim Moore, epitomizing the theory of how boys lack interest in a show like 'Temptation Island,' said that he has never really paid any attention to the show. Nevertheless, Timmy had some interesting insight and comments about the show. "Well, I think that it is very easy to keep up with the storyline of the people that chose to be on the show actually loved each other, then I doubt they would want to tempt each other like that."

Timmy then continued, "I think all the couples on the show are just friends who wanted an excuse to party. Conspiracy, that’s what it is!"

Freshman Drew Bigwa was torn between hating the concept of 'Temptation Island,' but loving the girls. 'I think that 'Temptation Island' displays everyone and Chris Lopsnik, he is a seventeen-year-old man Ali Blum said, "The show definitely has some cuties on it. I wouldn’t mind being seduced by any of them! Oh, and I also love to guess who is going to hook-up with who."